The first reason, he said that he is an honorary member of the BoD of CAPEU. Secondly it will be fair and more independent if it is not chaired by any member of CAPEU. The Secretary of CAPEU supported the proposal from UUM and followed by the President of BOD of CAPEU and other members.

Prof. Fuad Abdul Hamid from UPI once again asked: "If the quorum is not enough, will the results of the election be acceptable?". Many of the members said that it was not stated with the reasons that we had discussed previously when discussing the Financial Report.

1.2 Election of New BoD for the Second Term

Prof. Dr. dr. Badia Perizade, Rector of Universitas Sriwijaya said that CAPEU is still a half-boiled egg, please allow UPSI to continue to lead for another term. Her statement was supported by UUM, Deakin University, PNU and also the Indonesian Education Attache. Finally it was approved that CAPEU will be led by UPSI for the next two years as the host and also as the Secretariat for administering CAPEU activities and home for the Secretary of its BoD. The new management of CAPEU for May 2013 to May 2017 is attached to this report as Appendix I.

The following are some additional comments from the floor after the election:

- 1). Prof. Robottom saluted Prof. Zakaria Kasa after he had been elected as the President of CAPEU for the Second Term.
- 2). Prof. Dr. Mohd. Izam from UUM said that, though still young CAPEU has been doing good job and suggested that at least to maintain as it is. However, more programs can be done when all hands are put together by all members and also supported by the partners.
- 3). Prof. Fuad Abdul Hamid of UPI said UPI appreciates what CAPEU has been doing though within a short period of time. Please develop better cooperation between members.
- 4). Prof. Badia, it is a half-boiled egg, keep the egg boiling till it is well done. I will be no more rector of Sriwijaya University within the next few months. My next Rector will support the program. I may be able to see you all again if the Seventh BoD of CAPEU be conducted by August or September this year.

2. CLOSING THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

2.1 Farewell Speech by the Host

As the host for this Roundtable Meeting and the Sixth BOD Meeting, and as the Deputy President of the CAPEU, Prof. Dr. Ian Robottom thanked all members that attended the meeting and hope to see all of them within the next few months. However, he proposed that Dr. Christ, the Dean for Research of the Faculty of Education of Deakin University be included as one of the committee members in the new management of CAPEU. The main reason is that he will be no longer full time staff by July this year and Dr. Christ will be supporting him to carry on programs of CAPEU.

For UPSI-Deakin Symposium and for any collaboration with other members, he also proposed that Assoc. Prof. Dr. James Campbell be appointed as one of the committees representing Deakin in the management. He is well-known in South East Asia and very knowledgeable for the region. The two proposals from Prof. Robottom were accepted by all members.

2.2 UPSI-DEAKIN Symposium

Early discussion was conducted a day prior to the Sixth BoD Meeting between Assoc. Prof. Dr. James Campbell, assoc. Prof. Dr. Qismullah Yusuf, Prof. Dr. Amir Hasan Dawi (Dean of the Faculty of Education) and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Noor Shah Saad for UPSI-Deakin Graduate Research Symposium. After having another meeting between Prof. Dr. Ian Robottom and Dr. Christ (Associate Dean of the Faculty of Education of Deakin University) and The Secretariat of CAPEU, it was concluded this Graduate Research Symposium is important.

The results of the First and Second Graduate Research Symposium between UPSI and Deakin University have been appreciated by the academicians, not only by the academicians within the two campuses but also by many teachers teaching around UPSI campus in Malaysia. Some of the participants for the Second Symposium were from other states in Malaysia and few of them were from Indonesia and Thailand.

The final decision is to continue having this Graduate Research Symposium conducted between the two universities. The Third Deakin-UPSI Graduate Symposium will be conducted at Deakin University on the basis of reciprocity between the two universities. The Fifth one will be conducted at UPSI at the end of 2015.

Dr. Hj. Adenan bin Hj. Basar said that KUPU-SB is waiting for final date for the trilateral symposium between UIA – Fatony and KUPU-SB as agreed between the three members in the last program mapping of CAPEU at UPSI. The President of CAPEU suggested that Secretariat keep tracks on this plan. The Secretary of CAPEU suggested that the Secretariat and the Treasurer to contact UIA as the First Host of this Tri-Lateral symposium as soon as possible.

2.3 The New Management of CAPEU

The new management of the Board of Directors of CAPEU is presented in the Appendix I of this Report. The members for the management were proposed and approved by all members attended this Sixth BoD of CAPEU conducted at The Deakin University City Campus in Melbourne, Australia. (APPENDIX I)

ROUNDTABLE MEETING

11-12 May 2015

Deakin University City Campus, Melbourne Australia

1. WELCOMING SPEECH

The Roundtable meeting was started with a short speech of Prof. Robottom, followed by the introduction of Prof. Dr. Christine, the Dean of the Faculty of Education and Deakin University. Prof. Robottom said that it was a good combination where BoD of CAPEU was combined with the Roundtable Meeting on certain academic aspects of concerns of members of CAPEU, especially current trends and issues on education, issues and problems facing by member countries.

2. FIRST PRESENTATION (DEAKIN)

The First Presentation was delivered by Prof. Dr. Christine, the Dean of the Faculty of Education of Deakin University. Her presentation was focused on the system of education that have been practiced in Australia and efforts that have been done to improve the quality of education of her country. She further emphasized that Australia, in addition of its own, also seek other strengths from other countries, such as Canada and several European countries, to improve the quality of education in her country. She also said that each state in Australia has its own policies, however, it also based on the national guidelines provided by the Federal Government.

3. SECOND PRESENTATION (UPI BANDUNG)

The second presentation was delivered by Prof. Dr. Ace Suryadi, presenting how UPI was involved in shaping the national policies of teacher training to be developed by the Ministry of National Education of Indonesia. Indonesia, he said is still in the process of seeking other alternatives or choices to further improve the quality of teacher training in Indonesia. UPI or Indonesia as a whole is willing to cooperate with other institutions and other countries to improve her education.

Indonesia has been working with NIE in Singapore and other several institutes in several other countries. One of the main problems, he said, that the policies and programs of teacher education at the higher institution are not always in line with the policies made by the local department of education (district and province). The Ministry would like to improve the quality of education but at the same time it keeps issuing "permits" for private sectors to open new teacher training institutions without proper facilities and labs for teacher training. In recruiting teachers, the BAKN is setting other policies by keeping appointing the graduates of low quality teacher training institutes and the number is quite high every year.

4. THIRD PRESENTATION

Prof. Dato' Dr. Noraini Idris, the Secretary of BOD of CAPEU presented her paper on the current researches being conducted by UPSI in improving the quality of teacher training programs at Malaysian universities.

5. FOURTH PRESENTATION

The Fourth Presentation was delivered by Prof. Dr. Ari Purbayanto and Qismullah Yusuf on the importance of Providing education to the school-aged children in Sabah and Sarawak. There are more than 60,000 school-aged children in the two eastern states of Malaysia. They are trapped in between the problems: no teacher to teach, no facilities to support and no administrative support s from the home and the new home where they were born (Malaysia). The negotiation has been for so long and no solutions are yet to be found between the two nations. CAPEU is proposing that all members from Indonesia and all members from Malaysia work together and use "teaching practice" courses to initially solved the problems prior to having a permanent solutions being negotiated between the two nations.

6. PEACE EDUCATION IN SOUTHERN THAILAND

Fatony University is a member of CAPEU. The political conflict in Southern Thailand has been there for more than 20 years. It needs to be solved as soon as possible to save life and be able to proceed and improve the quality education in the six southern provinces. CAPEU is not a political organization but an organization that cares for education of all school-aged children. Prof. Dr. Fuad Abdul Hamid, a senior professor in Anthropology from UPI presented the paper to seek possible answers to the problems in the regions.

He has been involved in setting peace education classes at UPSI as the results of training provided to him and other senior lecturers at UPI by Finland, Sweden and other European countries. One of the solutions proposed by Prof. Hamid was that there should be a steering committee between members of CAPEU to design acceptable peace education curricula to be used by education and social institutions in Southern provinces of Thailand. Proposing peace through the mind and use education as a tool will be more sustainable for both sides, the Government and also the opponents. He said that Indonesian some of flatforms can be used as a model in solving a conflict.

REPORTS OF CAPEU ACTIVITIES

April 23, 2013 – July 31, 2015

We are glad to inform that the members of this consortium had implemented many activities that benefited members and member countries. We do hope that we will be able to do more for the years to come. In addition to founding members by April 23, 2015 we have new members registered with CAPEU. The members are not only from Malaysia but also from the Philippines. We will be having new partners; Hong Kong Institute of Education and the Center for Special Education of the South-East Asian Ministries of Education Organization (SEAMEO). The consortium is also requesting the University Networks of the IMT-GT to be a partner for this consortium.

Exchange programs in the form of reciprocal seemed to be preferable by members of the consortium. As many as 32 students from UPSI, for instance, were sent to the Center for Risks Reduction Management (CRRM) at Syiah Kuala University in Banda Aceh to learn how to manage an evacuation center when a disaster happens. These students were trained not only by the CRRM but also by the National Search and Rescue Office of Banda Aceh. It is reported that many of these students participated in emergency programs provided by Malaysian Government when handling severe flood in six states in Northern Malaysia.

The first workshop on Special Education was conducted in Banda Aceh with the facilitators provided by the DAAD in Jakarta and Deakin University in Australia. The second workshop on Mapping program was conducted between members of the consortium to formally exchange programs reciprocally between members. The third workshop was conducted at the Universitas Pendidikan Indonesia in Bandung to write a formal proposal to be submitted to the Ministry of Education of Indonesia for providing education to the 63,000 school-aged children of Indonesian migrant workers in Sabah and Sarawak, Malaysia. The fourth workshop was conducted at Deakin University for developing the quality of teacher education among members of the consortium. The fifth workshop will be conducted at the Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta on Disaster Awareness, Preparedness and Management.

The partner schools of UPSI have started their reciprocals program through CAPEU. Kuala Kubu Bharu MARA High School, a partner school of UPSI in Selangor, sent 32 students to Fatih Bilingual School and Syiah Kuala Lab School in Banda Aceh. These students were merged with the students from the two schools in Banda Aceh and exchanged academic matters and cultural experiences between the students from the two countries. Semarang State University has been sending its students to UPSI for the last two years. Similar exchange programs have also been conducted between UUM and members of the consortium in Indonesia.

3.1 Students' Exchanges

Students' exchanges programs that have been taken place between Sultan Idris Education University (SIEU) - Syiah Kuala University (SKU) in Banda Aceh and Indonesia Education University, formerly known as IKIP Bandung, have been highly appreciated by students and faculty members of both countries. They have gone through academic and cultural exchanges during the last five years. Similar students' exchanges can be developed among members of consortium and with partner universities outside the consortium and among members of the consortium. UPSI and Syiah Kuala University have also conducted students' exchange program in disaster management where 32 students from UPSI were sent to Aceh for training.

3.2 Faculty Exchanges

The Sultan Idris Education University (SIEU), Syiah Kuala University (SKU), Sriwijaya University and Indonesia Education University (IEU) in Bandung have gone through several phases of faculty exchanges during the last three years after the first MoUs were signed between the three universities. Such exchanges will ignite research collaborations and establish dual/double degree programs between member universities and with partner universities. The first joint publication between SIEU and IEU was published and launched last September in Kuala Lumpur. Faculty exchange has also been conducted between Syiah Kuala University and UPSI.

3.3 Dual/Double Degree Program

Student and faculty exchanges and sabbatical programs will also be initial steps in establishing dual or double degree programs within the member universities in the consortium. New departments of a member university can request help from stronger university in certain areas of studies to improve the quality of its training and education services to meet the needs of more qualified lecturers/professor for a member country/university in certain areas of studies.

Deakin University in Melbourne, Australia has developed double degree program in EFL with Syiah Kuala University in Banda Aceh and as many as 45 Master's degree students in EFL have graduated from the university and are now serving the needs of EFL teachers in Aceh. Almost 100 teachers of Aceh, pursuing their Master's degrees in Science and Mathematics Education have completed their degrees at Deakin University. They are now improving the quality of Modelling High Schools in the province. Similar programs can be developed with other universities in the consortium and with other partner universities in other member countries. .

3.4 Joint Research and Publications

In addition to establishing collaborations as mentioned above, the consortium will also develop cooperation with member universities in conducting joint researches to be funded bilaterally or trilaterally between the core members and also with other party interested in the projects. Taiwan universities are known for their publications and quotations during the last ten years. Universities in Taiwan can be approached to develop this types of collaboration. To enable the consortium in managing the joint research and publications there should be a committee established by the consortium and appoint a country/university/ institution to manage all researches and publications written by faculties from members of the consortium, partner universities and

The best students in their final year (the fourth year for undergraduate) in selected areas of studies will be selected and sent to SIEU and other members in Malaysia to pursue one semester for course works, preferably in the last two semesters of their programs. After completing the first semester in their last year, these students will be assigned to teach for a period of 12 months in Malaysian estates and mega projects and returned to Indonesia with dual degrees through the agreed transfer credits between SIEU and Indonesian education universities. Similar programs can be made for Master's degree programs.

The main obstacle in coping with the above problem is "visa" for Indonesian teachers to be sent to Malaysia. By developing a dual degree/double degree or transfer credit programs with SIEU and other Malaysian members, the visa can be assisted by Malaysian universities and Indonesian teachers can be sent to Malaysia to provide education to many "unreachable learners" of Indonesia in Malaysia under the supervision of both; Malaysian universities and Indonesian universities. The program can be carried out in two forms:

(1) KKN-Like Mode

The first program is called Kuliah Kerja Nyata (KKN), an internship program in Indonesian higher education system in which every student is compulsory to conduct a real community services for duration between 4 to 6 months in the fields prior to having diploma awarded to a student. This program can be implemented when there is a partner/member university in Malaysia that is willing to register Indonesian students (undergraduate degree) to take a semester or a year at a Malaysian university and conduct 12-month practicum to provide compulsory education to more than 63,000 school-aged children and many Malaysian plantations/estates legally in any state in Malaysia. The budget for Indonesian students to be sent to Malaysian plantations/projects may be paid by Indonesian government and all legal documents for the program will be handled by a Malaysian universities.

(2) Formal Teaching Services

The second proposed program will be through formal attachments/services to be conducted by Indonesian/Malaysia education university graduate students. These students are to be awarded scholarships (from Indonesian Government) to pursue their Master's degree programs at a Malaysian education university for duration of 3 semesters; one year for their course works at a Malaysian university and another 12 months for their teaching practices to teach the 63,000 school-aged children of Indonesian migrant workers at Malaysian estates in Sabah and Sarawak and other states in Malaysia. Programs are now being designed between institutions in Indonesia to solve the problems in having basic education to Indonesian pupils in Malaysia.

Similar cross-border programs can be developed between other member countries in the consortium. There are also children of migrant workers from Thailand, Myanmar, the Philippines and other countries in Malaysia. It will benefit the cross-border countries and solve parts of the problems sooner.

3.8 Professional Teacher Training Program

The members of the consortium can also develop joint training programs to train teachers, principals, school administrators, and other professions related to education at any member of the consortium in which trainers are selected from professional staff from members of the consortium. Through MoU signed between Government of Aceh and SIEU, for instances, two batches of math and science teachers and principals of modelling schools from Aceh have been trained by UPSI (with venues in Aceh and Malaysia) without taking any profits. The trainings were conducted on the basis of "CSR-corporate social responsibilities" of the Sultan Idris Education University.

3.9 Professional Attachments

As it is with the training programs, "attachment" is another important program that can be developed in developing, improving and widening horizons of education and training management in each member of the consortium. The attachment can be at each member of the consortium or arranged by each member at each students to participate. The fees for students who will present their papers at the conference will be reduced or may be waived. The key-note speakers for this conference were donated by DAAD, Deakin University and Sultan Idris Education University.

The Second seminar was conducted at the Kolej University Perguruan Ugama Seri Begawan in Brunei Darussalam, sponsored by the CAPEU, the Ministry of Religious Affairs of Brunei Darussalam and the Ministry of Education of Brunei. The Third conference will be held at the Philippines Normal University in Manila, the Philippines. The topics will be Education in Diversity and the key-note speakers will be donated by Deakin University, Hong Kong Institute of Education and Miyagi University of Education.

3.13 Automatic Credit Transfer

All transcripts of all members of universities must be translated into English and these credits are transferable between members of consortium except for subjects related to state ideology, philosophy, religion and local contents. This agreement is valid for undergraduate and graduate levels of studies. Members of the consortium must have similar course descriptions of core courses offered by members of the consortium and approved academically and administratively by member universities. In addition to course descriptions, member universities should also approve "credit loads" of each subject/course offered by members and transferable with similar credit values.

3.14 Reduction of Accommodation Cost

Should students from members of consortium pursue their programs outside of their own campus, the host campus must charge students of members of the consortium with "local rate" to increase higher degree of exchange between students of members of university. Through this agreement, even students without scholarships may be able pursue their degrees at any faculty/program outside of their own original university in member countries.

3.15 Diploma Accreditation

Diplomas issued by each member university will be accredited through systems of each member countries. There should be a system developed jointly by related ministries in each country in which diplomas (undergraduate, graduate or other forms of formal degrees) are officially accredited. This system will convince higher rate of student and faculty exchanges between members of the consortium.

3.16 Sabbatical Leave Program

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Jane Teng Yan Fang, a faculty member of the Faculty of Economics and Management of Sultan Idris Education University had returned from East-West Center in Hawaii and now resume her teaching at her faculty. Assoc. Prof. Goh Swee Chee just returned from Deakin University after spending almost 9 months sabbatical leave at the university. Assoc. Prof. Dr. Siti Eishah Moekhsien is now at Deakin University conducting her sabbatical leave for the same period as Dr. Goh. Dr. Ikhsan from FPPM is now at Syiah Kuala University conducting his Sabbatical Leave at the university. He will be there for a period of 6 months. Similar programs are now being developed with DAAD in Germany and Miyagi University of Education in Japan. The program can also be developed among members or partners of the consortium.

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Mohd. Uzi bin Dollah will be leaving for Deakin University conducting his sabbatical leave at the university. He will be developing the concept of "mathematical values" in teaching mathematics together with a professor of mathematics at Deakin University. An associate professor from the Faculty of Languages and Communication of UPSI is planning to conduct her sabbatical leave at Deakin University where she will, not only working for her sabbatical leave, also be co-teacher for teaching Mandarin Language at Deakin University.

The visit was intended to develop special ties with this university in South Celebes Island. One of the plans was to develop a transfer-credit program between the two universities between FEHD of UPSI and the Faculty of Education of Makassar State University. This was planned to be a model and will be duplicated between other members of CAPEU. It was a delay due to having new regulations from UPSI and it will be implemented by the year 2015.

Makassar State University can also develop this transfer credit programs with Universiti Utara Malaysia in Sintok, with the Universiti Islam Antarabangsa Malaysia and other universities in Indonesia.
